Telemedicine / mobile care

FACTS

- Validation, 2005-2006, 1.2M€ funding
- HealthService24 is a service that enables healthcare professionals to remotely assess, diagnose and treat patients who are fully mobile and able to continue their daily life activities
- A HealthService24 patient/user is equipped with vital sensors that monitor signals such as blood pressure, pulse rate and ECG.
- These sensors are interconnected through a wireless Body Area Network that is managed by a mobile telephone which is worn on the body, and thus, moves with the patient.
- Pilots are running in Cyprus, The Netherlands and UK with strong industrial backing
